

Rainbow Connection

For Tessa

Our love bleeds every color in the rainbow;
through every storm, like plants, we grow,
and like the sunshine after, we glow.

I can see the reflection of clear blue skies
expressed in your soft, gentle blue eyes—
to me, they are always a sweet surprise.

And your silky soft hair, a pale blonde,
resembles a water lily's petals in a pond;
of all of your natural features I'm fond.

I remember the day we first met at Everest;
how my heart fluttered inside my chest,
and right there in my mind, my love I confessed.

We watched Five Nights at Freddy's in October late;
such a wonderful little Halloween date.
and from then on, I called you my soulmate.

And, later in December, our first kiss;
how I love the taste of your lips—pure bliss!
Every day we're apart, your presence I miss.

We've visited shops and restaurants locally,
eating together and going on shopping sprees.
You have in your hand my heart's key.

You've come to my house to cuddle with me
and I've come to yours to watch movies;
our favorite films are by Studio Ghibli.

I cannot wait to spend my days with you.
With you in my life, I never feel quite so blue.
You keep my mind and body together like glue.

I wish on every star in the sky above
to be with you forever, the woman I write of;
I dream of marrying you, my love.
