

Freak

Cannot escape the everlasting pain
of demons trapped inside the mind that screams.
I contemplate the thought that I am sane.

The damage always done creates a stain
as black as ink from whence the horror streams—
Cannot escape the everlasting pain.

Titanium is what makes up the chain that holds me down and scares away my dreams.
I contemplate the thought that I am sane.

The Creature never chooses to abstain,
and yet in others' pains, it fades, not beams,
Cannot escape the everlasting pain.

You freak, you monster, cease your hellish reign!
I'll fight with all my life against your schemes!
I contemplate the thought that I am sane.

Imagine the reality when slain
The Creature who destroys my body's seams.
Cannot escape the everlasting pain,
I contemplate the thought that I am sane.
